Assembly.

Denton of Lincoln county delegation reported A B No. 23 favorably, with the request that it be referred to the Judiciary Committee.

McNaughton moved to reconsider the vote by which A B No. 14, relative to whisky selling in the Capitol building. He denied being a prohibitionist, but urged the passage of this bill for the benefit of the rising generation and in the interest of good morals, decency and all that is respectable and commendable. The question was discussed by Beck, Hogan and Allen of Eureka for the measure, and by Denton and McDonald against it. The bill was reconsidered and defeated by a vote of 16 to 11.

Pitt introduced A C R No. 11.—It accuses President Cleveland, aided by the "cuckoo" Democracy, of high crimes and misdemeanors in the financial policy of the administration, especially relative to the silver question, and declares that the fat man is deserving of impeachment, etc. The resolution in its final passage went through lively with but two dissenting votes, Speaker Allen, and Dr. Hogan, the lone Democrat of this Legislature.

By Beck—An act to increase the number of members in the Boards of County Commissioners in the various counties of the State.

By Crisler, A B No. 52.—To regulate the practice of dentistry in this State. Public Morals.

A B No. 14, the "Well" bill, came up on its final passage as amended, making it a misdemeanor to sell or deal out spirituous liquors in the State Capitol building after April 1, 1895. McNaughton, the author of the original bill, said that he would vote for the bill as amended, being satisfied that it could not pass as originally introduced making its provisions take immediate effect. The bill was finally passed—26 yeas; 3 noes.

The Grass Valley Telegraph's devil is responsible for the following: Girls are of few days and full of mischief and whoever is deceived by them is not wise. When the fair girl chews her gum with much haste and stampeth her pretty foot then look out. She cometh forth in the evening with low neck and short sleeves, in the morning she lieth in bed while her mother hustleth.

The Limits of Arbitration.

With international arbitration we confess to having comparatively little sympathy. If nations mean to fight, nothing will prevent their so doing, and agreements to arbitrate will be of very little service. The suggestion of an agreement between England and the United States to establish a permanent machinery for regulating their disputes is, however, quite different. Nations in whom the same racial characteristics are to be found, who are influenced by the same ideas, who talk the same language, read the same books and possess the same political traditions, are capable of making an agreement to settle disputes by arbitration a reality.

Again, an agreement not to fight till the question in dispute has been referred to a body exercising the functions of a court of law is a step in the direction of that alliance between the United States and England which we trust and believe, is the destiny of the two countries. If we begin by an acknowledgment that we are not in the position of foreign powers—i. e., liable to war at any moment—we may soon rise to a definite race alliance, and lastly to that declaration of a common citizenship which would prevent any Englishman from being an alien in America or any American being an alien in England and would heal the breach in the unity of the race caused by the folly of George III and his ministers.—London Spectator.

Hiduous Advertisements.

It is said that a salmon, when quite devoid of appetite, may be worried into taking a fly, if only flies be present. I to him with irritating pertinacity. "Hang it!" he exclaims, "I cannot be troubled with this Jack Scott any longer"—he makes an irritable snap at it and is lost.

Possibly in the same way persons are driven nearly wild by seeing this or that commodity thrust on their notice in railway stations, in trains, in the streets, in the fields, on the top of Ben Macdui. Then they may purchase a sample in despair, may like it and go on using it. This may be the theory of frantic and hideous advertisements, but on the whole it might seem more likely to work its own destruction. "Whatever I buy I will not buy that," one can conceive the citizen remarking and looking out for a less obtrusive article. But if advertising did not pay people would not advertise.—London Saturday Review.

Advised For His Good.

They are neighbors on Second avenue, and as they walked down town the other morning one of them observed:

"My wife is crazy to have me buy a new milk cow. What do you think of the idea?"

"Magnificent! You couldn't invest $40 in a way to bring you better returns."

"Much bother and expense?"

"Hardly any. Your milk won't cost you over a cent a quart, and it will be pure milk too. If I had a barn, I'd keep two cows."

"Two or three of my friends have rather discouraged me."

"Don't listen to 'em. Rich cream for strawberries and coffee—pure, sweet milk for the children and kitchen! I've often wondered that you didn't keep a cow. No care, no trouble, no expense. I'll guarantee you'll never regret it. In fact, it is really your duty toward your children."

"Yes, I suppose so. I guess I'll go over to the hay market and buy one and send her up."

Ten minutes later the man who advised was telephoning to a carpenter shop:

"Say, you! One of your men was up at the house yesterday measuring floors and windows for fly screens. I told him to go ahead at $12, but I want to countermand the order. Sold out? Oh, no! My neighbor's going to keep a cow, and that lets eight or ten of us out on the fly question!"—Detroit Free Press.

Senator Allen, of Neb., will look after the credentials of Col. Reese of Alabama, who claims to be the legal Senator and who will contest the seat of Senator Morgan. The credentials are now on the Vice President's table, but Senator Allen will try to get them referred to the Committee on Elections. Upon the result of that attempt the Populist effort to get a Congressional investigation of the Alabama election depends very largely.

A brakeman on the Moline & Ohio railroad, on reaching Oreville, Ill., saw a man standing on the bumpers and clinging to the brakeman's commands to alight, they grabbed him by the arm and attempted to pull him down. The man was immovable and investigation proved he was frozen. His hands were so tightly fastened to the steel that it is said the bones were broken and the flesh torn in unloosening the body.
